We Must Be Leaders

EXECUTIVE

Director's

MESSAGE

By Lyle Dixon

It's hard to believe that the 2018 football season is upon us. The summer work is ending and all over the state, teams are starting re-season practice. The first kickoff is less than two weeks away.

I would like to take a moment and thank the United States Army and the Turning Stone Resort for their continued support of our state's coaches.

Those two organizations have allowed us to showcase some of the best football players in NYS with our 7-on-7 championship tournament at Ithaca College and our annual Coaches Clinic.

Please mark your calendars: The 2019 Elite Showcase and NYS 7-on-7 tournament will be July 13-14 at Ithaca College. The NYSHSFCA Coaches Clinic will be February 7-9 at the Turning Stone Resort in Verona.

Other Stuff: Our game is changing so much from youth football all the way to the pro's.

It's crucial for athletes everywhere that we continue coaching well beyond the game.

Our #1 job is to make sure that we are developing well-rounded athletes and productive young men after their playing days are over.

Many coaches are faced with declining enrollments which has forced many schools throughout the state to implement eight-man football to save their programs. Other communities are experimenting with merging program - which can raise other off-field issues that no one anticipated.

Coaches are faced with so many issues surrounding social media. Children and teenagers can now make a life-altering mistake - AND broadcast it to the world - in a matter of seconds.

We must talk with our athletes regarding what is appropriate behavior and what is not.

Social issues such as dating violence and sexual assaults are coming to the surface every day within all levels of football.

We need to continue facilitating discussions with our athletes about taking responsibility for their words, thoughts and actions when it comes to all these issues. We need to make sure that we are being great role models - for everyone in our communities, not just our players.

We must be leaders in providing young people a proper moral compass.

It is also important for our sport that we continue to provide educational opportunities for our coaches.

As we all know, proper tackling technique is a major issue within all levels of football.

Texas has become the first state to initiate a Tackling Certification required by all junior high and high school coaches to try to make the sport safer.

D.W. Rutledge, Executive Director of the Texas High School Football Coaches Association states, "the game is changing, and we - AND broadcast it to the world.need to change with it. Preventing injuries is paramount for all coaches and players and we need to continue making the game as safe for our players as we can."

USA Football continues to take the lead in developing educational programs for youth and high school coaches. They have developed an organization comprising of Executive Directors from each state's High School Coaches Associations to try to stay on top of all these issues.

As your professional organization, we will continue to help promote football throughout NYS and keep you informed of all the issues surrounding our great game of football.

I hope that everyone can have a fun and successful 2018 season.

Summer Events were a Success

President's

MESSAGE

By Nick Fitzgerald

I would like to wish everyone good luck for the 2018 football season!

I would also like to thank Ithaca College for hosting our annual 7-on-7 Tournament and Skills Showcase on July 14 and 15. It was an amazing success, with teams from all over New York State attending the weekend.

Close to 200 players participated in the Skills Showcase. Almost 40 teams competed in the 7-on-7.

Greg Sirico, Lyle Dixon, and Kevin DeParde did an excellent job of organizing everything and make sure it went off without a hitch!

Also, a huge thank you to the U.S. Army for sponsoring the weekend. Without the support from the Army, we would be unable to host such a large event.

Despite how well the now-annual weekend is being received by coaches from around the state, we want to grow next year.

We are looking to improve our coordination with the regional combines and the 7-on-7 leagues and tournaments that teams are already participating with locally.

We also want to increase the number of teams and players participating in our statewide weekend.

Remember, the events that weekend are free and covered by the association. We just want to promote football and give student athletes a chance to compete and get noticed by colleges from around the northeast.

As the season begins, remember we all have to be great ambassadors to the sport of football.

As we all see the decline of participation, concerns about concussions and single-sport specialization, we have to make sure we are doing everything we can to shine a positive light on the greatest game on earth.

We have to make sure we are sending a positive message about football and promoting the game as not only a great sport but how it builds character, teamwork, commitment and perseverance.

Each of us can make a commitment to build our programs around those characteristics!

As the media continues to look for negative stories about this great game, we have to portray the many positives kids get by playing it.

This is more important than ever as social media has made it easier to quickly spread incorrect or damaging information.

The NYSHSFC is working hard to stage events that promote and improve the game.

Our Annual Clinic at Turning Stone is a great opportunity to network with hundreds of high school and college coaches from around the state.

The NYS Passing Tournament gives players an opportunity to compete against teams from around the state.

Our Skills Showcase gives hundreds of players the opportunity to work with college coaches and be seen by programs that may want to recruit them.

You can help us by becoming a member. The membership form is on page 3 of this magazine.

If you have any questions, please feel free to call one of your representatives. Our Directory is on page 2 of this issue.

Again, good luck this season!

Athletes Score Big with American Dairy Association

ADANE's CEO, Rick Naczi (right) is shown with the Clinic Director, Lyle Dixon (left) and the sponsored speaker, Qadry Ismail, who spoke about the importance of proper nutrition.

At the NY State Football Coaches Association Clinic, the American Dairy Association North East (ADANE) sponsored guest speaker former Baltimore Ravens' wide receiver Qadry Ismail, who spoke about "leading by example."

Ismail is a currently a high school track coach and said nutrition plays a vital role in performance. Ismail also works with ADANE to get more schools involved in the Dairy Association and NFL's Fuel Up to Play 60 program.

The Fuel Up to Play 60 program helps students create a healthier school environment by providing a playbook of activities that increase nutrition and physical fitness. Schools also have the opportunity to receive grants to help fund their program. Ismail says the program empowers students to make decisions, "I love the fact that both the teachers and students get to participate in activity and discuss healthy food & diet choices, which include having a great breakfast like whole grain cereal with milk and/or fruit with yogurt."

ADANE also sponsored the Awards Banquet on February 9, which honored players and coaches for across the state. Guest speaker at the banquet, ADANE CEO Rick Naczi, spoke about dairy farmers support of athletes through their sponsorship of the NYSHSFA and the NYSPHSAA.

Chocolate milk provides athletes with 9 essential nutrients including carbs and protein for recovery. For more info on ADANE resources, visit dairyspot.org.

Hidden Star Will Shine

By Mark Adair

Pioneer coach Jim Duprey worked his players hard this summer, trying to get ready for the 2018 season.

"We have a really good group of seniors right now," Duprey said. "They are kids that we have had playing with us since they were freshman and sophomores. We've had a nice group of kids here for a while."

Pioneer has been a solid, competitive program in recent years, but has not experienced fantastic success.

"We've been in the middle of the pack," Duprey said, "and that's probably because of our division. We have had some very tough competition in the past few years."

In order to get his team ready for what should be an extremely difficult schedule in 2018, Duprey entered his team into several high-level passing tournaments this summer.

"We've gone to a few passing tournaments," Duprey said. "I like to bring the kids to a few tournaments each summer. It's a good bonding experience and gets the skill kids together to run some plays."

While Pioneer has had a well-earned reputation as a ground-and-pound team, Duprey says that passing tournaments are extremely beneficial.

"Any time you can get the kids together, pick up a football, compete against another team and play defense, it's a good thing," he said. "It may or may not translate into success during the season, but, it keeps the kids active and they have a lot of fun."

This past summer, Duprey took his team to the tournament at St. John Fisher College in Rochester where the Panthers won the small-school tournament.

In July, Pioneer entered the NYS Championship 7-on-7 tournament at Ithaca College.

"That was a great tournament," he said. "There were quite a few elite teams from across the state there. It was a great experience for our kids."

Pioneer senior Mike Rigerman is a state-level elite player in three different sports but has received no scholarship offers from any football program.

We finished 7-1 in the tournament and we were playing against some very good teams."

And, about that "ground-and-pound" rep that Pioneer has built over the years?

"Maybe this is the year we throw a lot," Duprey said. "We proved this summer that we have kids who can throw and catch."

One of the players that Pioneer will be relying on this summer is a curious case.

The NYS High School Football Coaches Association hosted the tournament and teams came from as far away as Buffalo and Long Island.

"Any time you can get the elite teams together, it will raise the level of competition," Duprey said. "It was great to see all these teams from other parts of the state. It was just a great tournament, and, if you can attach a New York State title to it, that's a really cool thing."

Pioneer spent the day battling extreme heat and other elite programs - including 2-tie NYS Class D champion Cambridge.

The Panthers advanced to the championship game but lost to Susquehanna Valley, who came from the Binghamton area.

"Our kids were bummed that we lost that game," Duprey said. "But when we got back home, they realized that they played really well."

See Pioneer on page 12

Senior Mike Rigerman is entering his fourth varsity season.

"He's been up with the varsity since he was a freshman," Duprey said. "At that time, we had some injuries and we needed some help. He was already dominating on the JV level. We brought him up and he played well."

And not just "well"... Rigerman has actually continued to dominate for the last three years.

"He should graduate as the best overall athlete in school history," Duprey said. "He has dominated three different sports here."

Rigerman's name will be all over the Pioneer football record book - both offensively and defensively.

"He'll break the all-time tackle record this year," Duprey said. "He will be very close to breaking record for receptions and receiving yards in a career. He's in line for a lot of records."

Rigerman already holds the school record for Most Tackles in a Season (121, set in 2017) and Most Tackles in a Game (21 in a loss to Cheektowaga last fall.

Rigerman was a Section 6 wrestling champion and finished 4th in NY State in the 220-pound weight class.

He has also been a star for the school's track team.

"He is in the school's all-time top ten in multiple events," Duprey said. "He finished 4th in Section 6 in the Long Jump. He finished 7th in the 110-hurdles. He's a great Triple Jumper.

He's really, really good in all three sports."

Rigerman, at 6-3 and 235 pounds, also has size to match his speed.

"He has almost zero body fat," Duprey said. We go to a local training facility as a team and he is always there. He is a big, fast guy and he is an extremely hard worker."

Rigerman also maintains an academic average of 95.

"His academic work is outstanding," Duprey said.

Rigerman has been timed at 4.55 in the 40-yard dash.

"I think he can get it down even further," Duprey said.

"He is an incredible football player. He has caught passes one-handed and outran defensive back. He was big enough to outleap smaller D-backs."

Probably the most amazing thing about Rigerman is the total lack of notice from any college program.

"As of right now," Duprey said, "he has not gotten anything from any Division 1 programs. He hasn't even talked with anyone. He has had more conversations with wrestling coaches than football coaches."

This utter dearth of recruiting interest baffles Duprey.

"Maybe part of it is my fault," he said. "Maybe I have not done enough to get him out there. But in this day and age, someone should have seen his tape on Hudl. His name should absolutely be out there. Somebody is going to get a really, and I mean a REALLY, good football player."

Duprey even went so far as to say that there were zero red flags regarding Rigerman's behavior.

"Absolutely not," he said. "He's a great kid, very well behaved in school and the community."

Duprey has made it a priority to keep Rigerman's focus off the lack of recruiting interest.

"He can not stress about this," Duprey said. "He has to concentrate on playing and helping us have a great season. That's all he can do. If you win, a lot of the other stuff falls into place."

Rigerman says that he is excited about the coming season. He was most encouraged by the Panthers showing in the various passing tournaments across the state.

"We placed second in the state tournament," Rigerman said. "We won the St. John Fisher Tournament which is a pretty big achievement. But we all know that it's just summer work. When we put the pads on, it's a whole different game."

Rigerman says he does wonder about the lack of recruiting for football, but says he is not obsessed with landing a football scholarship.

"I've talked to Ithaca and Alfred for football," he said, "and they are both Division III programs."

He wants to major in Physical Therapy.

"I will go to any college to play football and major in Physical Therapy," Rigerman said. "I won't narrow my choices down at all. I won't stress about it because my opportunities will show up."

Rigerman says he has a different goal this fall anyway.

"I want to play in a championship football game," he said. "All the kids on our team have been together since we were 6 years old in the Pioneer Wildcats Youth Program. We want to make one last run together and play for a championship."

7-on-7 State Championship / Elite Combine Weekend

The NYSHSFCA, along with the U.S. Army were proud to bring to NYS the 7-on-7 State Championship and Combine Weekend at Ithaca College!

On the right: Susquehenna Valley won the Small School tournament on Sunday.

Still Fighting for Football

By Mark Adair

Al Paturzo, longtime coach at Susan Wagner in Staten Island, was seen this past summer helping with the NYS Passing Tournament that was held at Ithaca College.

"The Coaches Association has put a lot of time and effort into this," Paturzo said. "We got a little bigger on the Small School side and we added two more teams on the Large School side."

Paturzo says that, while the tournament has grown quite quickly, he still sees room for more growth.

"We want schools to be fighting to be in this tournament," he said. "but, right now, we are getting decent representation from around the state. We have teams coming from Long Island to Watertown to Buffalo."

Paturzo says that the NYSHSFCFA tournament is the only tournament in the state that does not charge teams to play.

"It costs the teams zero, nothing," he said. "We have a few sponsors like Riddell but the U.S. Army has taken a huge hold of sponsoring this. The Army makes all of this possible."

Paturzo also likes where the tournament is played.

"Ithaca College is a great setting," he said. "Having your players come see a college campus and compete against other good teams from all over the state is totally worth the trip for any program. Teams from Buffalo have been here. Teams from Westchester has been here. And every one of their coaches have said they loved playing in it."

"It's a great weekend, doesn't make the papers or TV - it's just a weekend for kids

After almost 50 years in football, longtime Susan Wagner coach Al Paturzo is still fighting to make high school football better than ever.

But, as has been the case for most of his career, Paturzo is not satisfied.

"We want to make this a bigger deal than it is right now," he said. "We have teams that go to tournaments in New Jersey because it's closer. We want them coming here. We want every school coming here."

Such vision is not new for Paturzo. He has always been like this - trying to see a Grand Outcome in any endeavor he has tried.

It was Paturzo who had the vision to start a summer all-star game between New York State and New Jersey, like football hotbeds do in Pennsylvania and Ohio.

And, largely due to his efforts at getting the ball rolling, the Governor's Bowl became a reality.

The Governor's Bowl started in a humble fashion, with Jersey dominating the first three years.

But the game grew, the NY side got better, and by the 10th year, the game was a hard-fought, bitter rivalry. The final game played at Rutgers was played in front of 8,000 people.

"I felt like New York vs New Jersey was a great game," Paturzo said. "I still miss it. I miss it every summer. I would start it again in a heartbeat if we could. I still think it would be great for football in our state - both states would benefit from the game."

Paturzo said that the fatal flaw in the game was a difference in visions between the two state organizations that staged the game.

"We thought the game was a great showcase for the kids," Paturzo said. "It was a great avenue for our players to be recognized throughout the country.”

The Jersey group had a different vision.

“The Jersey guys wanted it to be a money-maker,” Paturzo said. “We didn’t have the profit-making deals that they had on their side. They didn’t need to establish themselves because they were already on the map. We were still trying to establish ourselves.”

Paturzo says that the different visions of what the game could be, led to its demise.

“If we could have stayed the course,” he said, “I think we could have had a pretty incredible thing. But Jersey put the kibosh on it.”

In the end, Paturzo has been vindicated. Jersey has struggled to get their own game established.

“They can’t get it going right now,” he said. “They tried to play Pennsylvania, but Pennsylvania wants to play Ohio. That’s a huge thing for those two states.”

Other attempts at staging a marquee event have also fallen flat.

“They tried to play Connecticut but that state has their own game,” Paturzo said. “They tried Massachusetts but they can’t field a team. Their organization isn’t geared that way. So now, Jersey has three games within their own state and none of them are really the big event that it could be.”

Paturzo does admit that the New York side “Our Coaches Association is not about stockpiling money,” he said. “It’s about spending the money on kids. We are spending a lot on the NYS 7-on-7 championship and the Scouting Combine just to make it a great deal for the kids. And it has become a great weekend for the kids.”

Last February, Paturzo won a Lifetime Achievement Award for his contributions to the sport at the NYS Award’s banquet.

As he was being introduced, several of his presenters gave him a good-natured ribbing on his combative personality.

“It’s all true,” he said. “Most of those guys know me well.”

He says that his wife Kathleen can confirm his combative nature.

“She has said it for the 49 years we’ve been married,” he said. “She says I’m right all the time and, if I’m not right, I think I’m right.”

Paturzo says that his upbringing in New York City, the most combative city in the world, forged his temperament.

“I’ve been around a lot of good people for a long time,” he said. “We fight to the death sometimes but when it’s over, it’s over and we are still friends.”

Paturzo graduated from Fort Hamilton High School in Brooklyn but never played high school football.

“I played P.A.L. football,” he said. “At the time, Fort Hamilton didn’t have football so I had to play sandlot football.”

He started coaching in 1969 in Staten Island and won 14 Staten Island titles and 6 NYC titles until he retired in 2016.

He says that the best thing that NYC football has done in recent years is get the championship game played at Yankee Stadium - the ultimate sports Taj Mahal.

“For a long time we played the championship game at high school fields,” he said. “I fought to finally get the game played at Columbia. To get it played at Yankee Stadium is a tremendous thing for the kids and the coaches.”

Paturzo says that over his 50-year association with football, has had many thoughts of “Wouldn’t it be great if we could...”. Some of them have become reality.

“I guess I tilt at a lot of windmills,” he said. “I’m always looking to do the next big thing.”

He and Kathleen have two sons, neither of whom played football or got into coaching.

But that’s OK with Al.

“Football gave me a great place to be,” he said. “I got to coach great kids and hang out with great coaches. This game was a great situation for me.

“It still is.”

GENERAL LIABILITY INSURANCE PROGRAM

As a membership benefit, coverage is provided by the Commercial General Liability Policy issued to the National Organization of Coaches Association Directors. This policy will provide general liability coverage to the New York State High School Football Coaches Association and its members.

About our Watch List...

What does this list mean?

This list does not mean a single player named will receive a scholarship to play football. In fact, most of the kids on this list will not play football after high school - at any level, never mind earn a Division I football scholarship.

The fact is, New York State had just 32 players earn scholarships to play football last year.

So, this is not a list of 4- and 5-star recruits.

It is simply a list of players that, right now, are talented enough to be looked at by college coaches... and nothing more.

This is a guide to help college coaches get started in requesting film, doing their background checks and making inquiries about grades on players that might be able to play for them.

In January of 2014, the NYS Football Coaches Association and I embarked on an ambitious project.

We wanted to publish a "Recruiting Watch List" for high school players from across New York State.

We hoped to accomplish two things with our list.

First, we want to create some excitement about high school football - create some "buzz", so to speak. For almost a century, the "Hot Stove Talk" has generated excitement about baseball in the dead of winter. Talk about the NFL Draft consumes fans of the NFL in April. Campuses across the country hold spring football games.

We thought that we could do the same for high school football.

The second thing we wanted to accomplish was to get our kids names out into the public so that college coaches will take a look at them.

Let's be honest... New York State lags far behind Texas, Florida and Ohio when it comes to getting football scholarships - or even exposure - for our own kids.

We thought that if we could just get a "semi-official" list into the hands of the college coaches, it would help them in their pursuit of kids that have the talent to play after high school.

Inside this issue, is our fifth Watch List. We have listed every high school football player who was nominated to be on the New York Recruiting Watch List.

On this Watch List are the names of more than 1,500 players from schools from across the state. These are kids that college football coaches should take a look at.

We have broken the list down into geographical sections and broken them down further by school. Kids are listed by position with their heights, weights and their current grade in school.

Eligible players include incoming freshman, sophomores, juniors and seniors.

Hopefully,
college coaches will find our Recruiting Watch List
a help in finding players from our state.

If my player is not on the list, does that mean he's not good enough to play college football?

Not necessarily.

It means that right now, he is not being recruited. But, some kids grow an incredible amount between their freshman and sophomore years. Kids can start hitting the weight room. Kids can start working hard at camps.

Some kids, who are less than impressive as sophomores, surprise everyone during their junior season and become stand outs.

The best advice a player could get is... if you are not on the list this year, work hard so you can be on the list next year.

How did we go about getting the information?

An email was sent to every high school football coach in the state. We included the Athletic Director in the email. The email was followed-up with a phone call. After the phone call, a 2nd email was sent.

If your school is not listed, it's because neither the school's coach or Athletic Director bothered to reply to our inquiries.

We have listed every nominated player from 8th grade to the 12th grade. Hopefully, college coaches will find our Recruiting Watch List a help in finding players from our state.
